Entert

A patchwork of entertainment was available to Methodist College students throughout the year from college/community cultural offerings to student-staged productions. Students enjoyed the SUB Valentine's Dance, Kadalay Music Workshop in the fall, Easter Sunrise Service in O'Hanlan Amphitheatre featuring the Reverend Nancy Best as speaker, Annual Talent Show with Pipe Perry in tux, Golden Knights in the spring with a presentation to Dr. Samuel Womack, the Christmas Gala and student art exhibits like Debbie Ozmant's. Never a dull moment . . .

Academics

Convocations Enlighten and Entertain

Convocation schedule for 1978-79 was a full one. The programs offered a variety of entertainment and information.

The opening convocation featured as guest speaker the presiding bishop of the North Carolina Conference, Robert Blackburn. Other convocations included the "Masters of the Sky" 82nd Airborne Choir; Lorry Gorrett, hypnotist; William Jackson, director of the Arms Control Agency; a film on child abuse and the Reverend James Boiley of Greenville.

President Richard Pearce, freshman Jeneal Wharton and Bishop Robert Blackburn confer after the opening convocation.

Students get back into the world of academia quickly during the formal opening convocation.

Airborne! The 82nd Airborne Chair received an enthusiastic welcome from Methodist students.

Cadence and rhythm mark the performance of the neighboring 82nd Airborne Chair.

R.R. Allen, Jr. places emphasis on serving as chairman of the Methodist Board of Trustees. He is shown here in conversation with Dr. Pearce during the break of a Trustee's meeting, at Methodist College Day at Haymount Church and an Outlook for 1979 Symposium for the business community.

Chairman of the Methodist College Board of Trustees Bobby Allen is highly visible on the campus and throughout the community as the spokesman for Methodist College to the business and professional elements of the Fayetteville area.

Richard Pearce Is Too Busy For The Ivory Tower Of Academia

Dr. Richard W. Pearce is a working president — no ivory tower of academia for him. You can find him at civic meetings throughout the state, at meetings of the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church where he serves as conference lay leader, in the student union for college functions, at athletic events where he becomes as vocal as the students he cheers for, at conferences and symposiums over the Southeast, and in the office that always has the door open. Involvement is a way of life with him and he seeks to make it a way of life for Methodist College students.

Food Services Personnel Provide Three 'Squares' A Day for Students

AR & S Food Services provides service to Methodist College students in both the main cafeteria and the college Snack Bar. Manning the Snack Bar were Jan and Denis Voss, Bill McKenzie and Coralyn Wade. Although plagued by rapid turnover in managerial positions, AR & S cafeteria staff sought to maintain continuity in service.

Clubs and Organizations

Energy Marks Student Union Board Under the Leadership of Director Keith Langford

"Let Us Entertain You" is the motto of the MC Student Union Board. Headed by Dean Richard Coleman first semester and then by Deon Art McDaniel, the Board is responsible for the care of the student life on campus. Sometimes it comes in the form of big dances: Homecoming, Christmas, Valentine's and Spring Festival or sometimes in the form of discos in the new disco room. More than bonds or records create success. Decorations set the mood for each dance from the stars at Homecoming to Greek Medallions at spring festival. Spirit soared as high as the twenty-foot tree SUB decorated for Christmas when the SUB gave all good little boys and girls candy and small frisbees. Whether a dance or a festival, Lorry Garrett or the Locomotion Circus, it is all entertainment courtesy of the SUB.

Decorating the Christmas tree are Debbie Mullis, John Harris, Keith Langford, Bill Mackenzie, Tanya Wheliss, Frances Lee, Vickie Saunders, Dean Caleman, Ruby Wilson, and Jimmy Vestal.

KOINONIA

Activates Religious Life On The Methodist Campus

Kainania is the planning organization for the religious life activities on the Methodist campus. These activities include Sunday morning worship services, weekly Bible studies and prayer breakfasts. A fall retreat at Camp Rockfish near Raeford kicked off the Kainania year. Other special activities have included a caramel apple sale, the Maravian Love Feast at Christmas and Faith-In-Life Week.

Koinonia officers were Ruby Wilson, publicity; Jon Strother, publicity; Mork Mooney, treasurer; Eddie Owens, vice-president; Angelo Creech, secretary and Dwight Cribb, president.

The Reverend Poul Gronger served as campus minister for 1978-79.

Masque-Keys Stage Four Major Productions

Brush Up Your Shakespeare, This Way to Heaven, Once in a Lifetime and Ridiculous

Young Ladies are all products of the collegiate dramatic organization, the Green and Gold Masque Keys. Sponsored by Dr. Jack Peyrouse, the group aim is to pursue an active knowledge of the theatre, dabbling in make-up technique, theatre history and staging. Several Masque Key members travelled to New York City in January for the Fine Arts Fair, attending a number of Broadway plays and off-Broadway productions while there.

SEA Provides A Perspective of the Teaching Profession

Celebration of education and educators was the byword of the Methodist College Student Education Association for 1979. In addition to hosting the regional cluster meeting in the fall, the SEA brought local city and county administrators to campus to discuss the job market and the NCAE consultant to campus to discuss teacher rights and responsibilities.

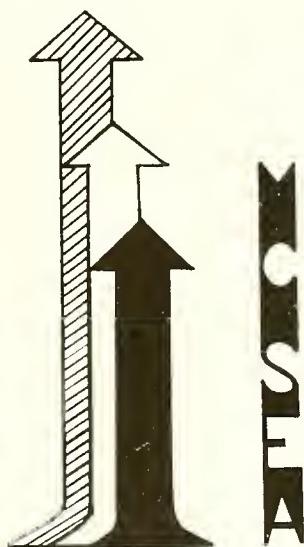

SEA Officers were Narma Ingle, Caralyn McDanald, and Ruth Huggins, shown here trimming the Christmas tree provided by SEA for the Classroom Building.

A November Reception brought members of the teaching profession in the county to the Methodist campus.

Business and Economics Club Stars With Homecoming Float and Outlook '79

The Business and Economics Club of Methodist College proved that business can be fun, too. Headed by Dr. Sid Goutam, they sponsored a Halloween costume dance for MC students and captured the float competition during Homecoming. In a more serious vein, the club held its annual Outlook '79. The economic symposium offered predictions for the national and local economy in 1979. Featured speaker was Charles Comeran, president of First Union National Bank.

Patchwork 1978-79

It was a patchwork of student involvement that made the extra-special memories of the 1978-79 year. . .

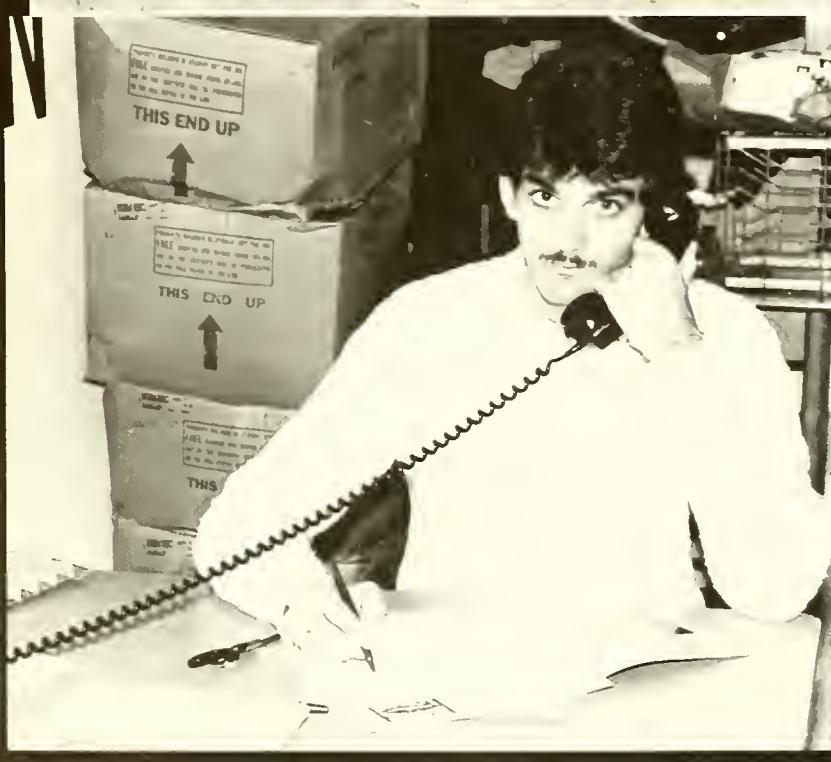

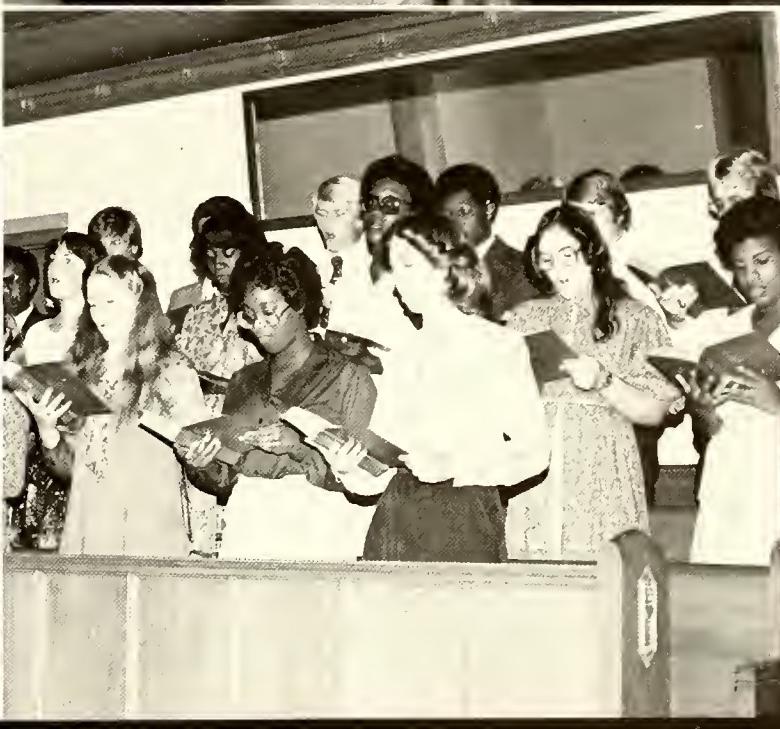

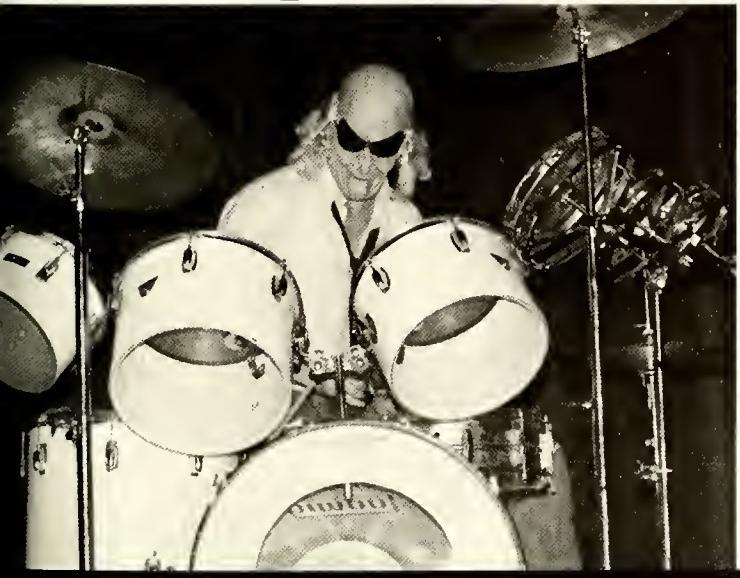

A Patchwork that included the 10:30 break in the Union, watching the soaps, dinner in the cafeteria, rushing from a 2:00 class to make it to the 3:00 soccer game or watching other students under the power of hypnosis. In all facets of life, a little work must be done. Here at Methodist that work not only includes a demanding academic curriculum but also preparing for a play production, decorating for dances, building floats, keeping the business of the SGA and fraternities in order. There has to be time for sports, intramurals, choir practice and Bible study.

However, all work and no play would make MC a dull place to be. So the funtimes of the 1978-79 patchwork continue with foosball tournaments, evenings spent with friends at the SUB-n-MUG, Anything Goes contest in the gym, field days, coffee houses, talent shows and discos. Through all the activities special bonds and friendships are born that remind us that friendship knows no geographical boundary.

The campus provided the material and the activities became the thread, but it was the students who patterned the patchwork design of memories that was Methodist College 1978-79.

Student Government Officers for 1978-79 were Lester "Sporky" Sessoms, vice-president; Greg Howord, treasurer; and Ted Hough, president.

Student Government Association Leads

Student government officers and workers are the proverbial "prophets without honor" in their homeland, but Methodist College SGA has distinguished itself with a year of progressive government and constructive change.

Methodist College senators serving 1978-79 were Lester Sessoms, Lyndo Womack, Mory Tolley, Vicki Souders, Jimmy Vestal; Row 2, Deon A. Dixon McLeod, advisor, Dove Perry, Jim Toomey, Hugh "Oz" Queen, Scott Peterson, Greg Howord, Michael Lister.

Panhellenic Officers for 1978-79 were Randa L. Shelley, delegate; Becky Sugg, vice-president; Rhanda Gare, president; Mary Talley, delegate; Rose Brantley, treasurer.

Greek Life Adds Service to Campus

Fraternity life on the Methodist campus is enhanced by the quiet governing of Panhellenic and the social and service unity of Kappa Delta and Alpha Xi Delta Fraternities for women.

Black Student Movement Group Strives for a Better Tomorrow

Striving for a better tomorrow . . . this is the main goal of the Black Student Movement. In order to have a better tomorrow, sad memories of yesterday must be put aside for the best today. Presently the club is expanding its horizons, having formed a BSM Gospel Choir for campus activities and touring. Membership is open to anyone who is interested in Black culture, history and to those willing to work.

Ethos — An Active Study of Society

Ethos is the organization for students involved in the study of sociology and social work. An active organization, Ethos provides the Fayetteville community with two field days annually; one held in the fall for mentally retarded children and one held in the spring for older adults. Under the leadership of Dr. Earl Martin and Dr. John Sill, Ethos sponsors a series of guest speakers throughout the year to comment on a variety of social issues.

Science Club Offers Possible Solutions to Key Problems

Science Club Officers are Greg Howard, program chairman, seated; Rick DePrater, vice-president; Ruby Wilsan, historian; Rhanda Dees, secretary; Bab Wilsan, president; Dr. Falsam, spansar. Not pictured, Debbie Pauk, treasurer.

Progressive members of the Methodist College Science Club sought to bring to the college community speakers on environmental issues, health concerns, and a variety of contemporary problems. Believing that an informed populace is the best road to possible solutions for complicated issues, members made a successful effort to keep the Methodist College community informed.

Karl-Michael Kraas participates in a CPR training session offered by the Methodist College Science Club as part of its public service policy.

Award-Winning Student Publications

Methodist College, as all college campuses, is a microcosm of personalities, nationalities and lifestyles. As a small campus, these personalities, nationalities and lifestyles are brought closer together through various communications. Small Talk, student newspaper, is the voice of student expression on the Methodist College campus. Under the editorship of Ann Morrow and Scott Peterson, Small Talk has received four consecutive first class Honors ratings from the Associated Collegiate Press. The bi-weekly publication scored a mark of distinction in the area of coverage and content. While Small Talk reports the news of today with accuracy and perception, the college yearbook Carillon preserves these events within the bounds of its cover. Within 192 pages of photos and copy, co-editors Jim Townsend and Phil Follin work with the staff to capture memories of campus life. As a liberal arts college, Methodist has an abundance of talented young writers and artists who long for an outlet to self-expression. Tapestry, edited by Anne Wilce and sponsored by Dr. Christian and Dr. Preslor, is the student poetry/creative arts magazine dedicated to that expression.

High Student Court decisions reiterate the necessity of personal student responsibility to the college community and himself

The apex of the Judicial branch of Student Government is embodied in the High Court. The High Court is dedicated to protecting student rights. It has the power and responsibility to interpret the Constitution and By-Laws of the Student Government Association. The High Court holds open hearings to aid student-administration communication. The Chief Justice is elected by the student body each year. The other four justices are appointed by the Chief Justice and approved by the Senate. The faculty advisor to the High Court is appointed by the Chief Justice and is approved by the President of the College. The court clerk is in charge of recording all proceedings and decisions of the court, and is elected by the student body.

Sports

Aggressive Defense Leads Best Season

Experience was not the key that led the Monarch soccer team to their winningest season ever — a season which consisted of a 8-5-2 overall record and a 4-2-1 record in the DIAC conference. The key was the hard work and dedication of the twenty-eight players, eleven of whom were freshmen, and the skilled coaching of veteran Mosan Sykes.

However impressive the record, it cannot do justice to the Monarch season. The remarkable Monarch effort was sparked by an aggressive defense. The six shutouts, four 1-point losses and the two tie games mark that defensive record.

Among the highlights of the Monarch season were the naming of fullback Bruce Fritz and halfback Atsuo (Kumo) Kumozuki to the DIAC All-Conference squad. "This was the best team I've ever played for," stated Shohriar (Shoun) Mashinaary. "Each player was smart and skillful enough to carry out his own job on the field. The team had both confidence and spirit."

Bruce Fritz, the All-Conference, All-Academic senior captain of the Monarch team, supports Shoun's theory. "I have been playing soccer at Methodist for four years and this is the best team we've ever had."

Fritz was convinced the 1978 squad could have taken the conference title. "It was just the lack of league playing, but at the same time it was the hard work and dedication of those some unexperienced league players that gave us this winning season."

Coach Moson Sykes has coached the Monarch soccer team since it was first fielded in 1967. He is a graduate of Appalachian where he played soccer for the Mountaineers.

Monarch tri-captains for the 1978 season were Mortin Mortin of Tocomo, Washington; Bruce Fritz of Tocomo, Washington; and Jeff Deitz of Polmyro, New Jersey.

Team Unity and Individual Talent Total Success for the 1978 Monarchs

Soccer Players Take Honors

Senior Bruce Fritz, left, and freshman Atsuo Kumozuki, right, were named to the 1978 All-Conference team for the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Fritz also received the distinction of being named to the DIAC All-Academic team for 1978. Fritz played center fullback and served as captain; Kumo is a forward from Yamanashi, Japan.

Volleyball: Bid For Championship

"The 1978 volleyball team was our toughest yet," coach Mary Jane Hunley-Bann declared.

"Our team was talented, enthusiastic and tough." The hard work was emphasized by the fact that in order for the Iody Monarchs to achieve their 36-6 record they defeated eleven upper division schools.

MVP for both 1977 and 1978, Elaine Adams will not be returning for the 1979 season. "Elaine's great skill and enthusiasm will be sorely missed," claimed Coach Hunley-Bann.

Things still look well for the 1979 squad however. Upcoming seniors Janet Doss, Di Reichelderfer, and Vickie Weaver demonstrated improved skills and confidence thus proving they will be ready to take over next year. "Freshmen Solly Steele and Susan Swain brought diversity as well as skill to the team," Coach Hunley-Bann pointed out.

The greatest accomplishment for this year's squad came with the team's grueling 5-game first win ever over Pembroke.

"In total it was an excellent year," declared Coach Hunley-Bann. "I will always be proud to have been associated with this team."

Talented

Coach Mary Jane Hunley-Bonn looks on as her girls capture second place in the NCAIAW tournament.

Enthusiastic

Precision front line ploy by team members such as Di Reichelderfer led the Monarchs to a 32-6 overall record.

And Tough

Hard practice sessions led to the deadly spikes delivered by Puddin Miles and the professional set-ups executed by Peggy Pittman.

Harriers Place Second In Dixie Conference

Led by Coach Mork Bann, the Methodist College Cross Country team finished second behind St. Andrews in the DIAC cross country championship meet. Bann was pleased with the team's overall record. "We were the only squad to defeat St. Andrews," Bann pointed out. "My runners were strong, dedicated and most of all enthusiastic about their running."

Monarchs Focus Talent on 'Inspired Defense'

The Methodist College basketball team began its season with a relatively slow start. The squad dropped its first four games only to come back with a four game winning streak at the season's end.

"An extremely tough schedule, as constant juggling of players from J.V. to Varsity, and a loss of team members, due to grades were the main problems that plagued us this season," Coach Miller pointed out.

We also did not rebound as well as we have been in previous years, nor was our defense aggressive enough. And these two factors made a big difference in those close games.

The season was not without its highlights though, as Coach Miller was quick to point out. "Clarence Wiggins simply had another spectacular year," stated Miller of his MVP, all-conference, all-tournament center. Wiggins' statistics add conviction to Miller's words or praise. They lead the team in rebounding average that allowed Wiggins to add the spark to the Monarch defense. Wiggins also sported his own winning streak during the season by successfully sinking his final 30 foul shots of his college career.

Two Methodist stars received All-Dixie Conference honors for performance during the 1978-79 season. Clarence Wiggins of Grifton, N.C. added his all-conference laurels to previous Dixie League, All-Tournament and NCAA South Atlantic Region III First Team Honors. Elroy Gore of Supply, N.C. is a junior guard who will inherit the leadership of senior captain Wiggins.

Tough Opponents + Young Squad = 1-12 Season

Tough opponents and a young squad having to learn a completely new offense and defense were the factors that lead to the Methodist J.V. Basketball squad's 1-12 season record.

"It wasn't that my players did not have the talent to win," stated J.V. coach Jim Smith. "They all had a natural talent but being all freshmen they lacked college playing experience and here they were playing squads consisting of mostly sophomores. Then too," Coach Smith pointed out, "the players were used to playing a zone defense. Here we stress man to man so the players had to learn a totally new defense."

A loss of players was another factor in determining the Monarchs' record. "I lost several players after Christmas due to grades," Coach Smith pointed out, "as did Varsity coach Jae Miller. Due to loss of players on the varsity squad Coach Miller pulled up several players from the J.V. squad. This, plus the loss of man power due to grades, left us with no one on the bench to act as replacements," stated Coach Smith. "At one point during the season the squad consisted of a mere six players. Where our opponent could substitute with relief players, my men were forced to play the entire game."

Despite what one would think considering the loss of man power, the J.V. squad actually performed better despite the loss of players. According to Coach Smith, "The players seemed to feel and accept the responsibility more — they began to take the game more seriously. We were just too tired at the end of the game to produce a win."

Lady Monarchs Enjoy Winning Season

Methodist College's women's basketball squad finished the 1978-79 season on a strong note winning five of its final eight contests giving the Monarchs a 10-8 overall mark for the year, Methodist's first under coach Rose Poul Blackwell.

Senior Elaine Adams, A Sonford native, led the Monarchs in scoring averaging 33 points for the season with a personal game high of 41 points against Mount Olive early in the season.

Adams was not the lone scoring threat on the Monarch squad however, as she received plenty of help from senior Jeonne Edwards and Almarie Chalmers. Chalmers, who did not earn a starting role until the season had started finished the season averaging 9.4 point per contest while Edwards scored at a 12.4 clip per contest. Barbara Buie, who also alternated at forward with the two women, scored 9.5 points per contest during the year.

Hustle was the name of the game for women's basketball. A fast pace and tight press highlighted enviable defensive effort.

Eloine Adams, Sonford, continued to perform as a defensive and offensive superstar.

Baseball: The All-American Sport

Freshman Fill Key Roles

The Methodist College baseball team has had several obstacles to overcome in its 1979 season to live up to its billing as a perennial power in the Dixie Conference. The Monarchs successfully met most of them winning the Dixie Conference and gaining consideration for a post-season playoff bid. Methodist's mediocre 14-15-1 record for the year may have been one of the reasons the team did not make it to the playoffs.

14-15-1 isn't a particularly good record unless you take a look at the Methodist schedule which included almost one half of its games against Division I schools including North Carolina, UNC-Wilmington, Campbell College, Appalachian State, East Carolina and Longwood College. Eight of the Monarch's 14 losses came against the Division I schools.

Three wins each over Virginia Wesleyan and St. Andrews highlighted the conference slate of Methodist while the Monarchs collected wins over East Carolina, UNC-Wilmington, Glendale State and Wingate College.

Freshmen filled many of the key roles for the Monarchs in 1979 with Art Finley, Jimbo Rattz and Scott Gransay filling positions most of the season in the infield and Robbie Peele in the outfield. Terry Talbert also fielded strong performances on the mound as did Tim Sasser and Eric Baxley.

Monarch Baseball created exciting times during the spring season at Methodist. Quick and alert play and outstanding hitting paced the Monarchs into regional rankings.

Pitching His Way To The Pros

Monorch pitcher David Flowers of Lumberton, mainstay for the college baseball team, was drafted by the Montreal Expos professional baseball team during the two-day free agent draft.

Flowers, a junior, was a top freshman recruit and is known for his fast ball and sharp, breaking curve ball.

During the 1977-78 season, Flowers was ranked 15th in the state in strike-outs.

Flowers joins Methodist College alumnus Robert Bryant in the major leagues.

Softball Team Boasts Strong Fielding; Strong Hitting

Pre-season bad weather, spring break, and lack of playing experience on the part of young team were all major factors in the slow start of the MC softball team.

The lady Monarchs, coached by Mory Jone Hunley-Bonn, opened following spring break with a devastating 10-1 loss to UNC-Chapel Hill. "This was our toughest competitor," Coach Bonn pointed out. "I think we would have made a better game of it had we played them later during the season."

In the game immediately following the loss to Chapel Hill the Monarch squad suffered another loss, 15-7, at the hands of a tough UNC-Wilmington team.

The lady Monarchs made a good showing of themselves in a double-header against Shaw University. Although the Monarchs lost 5-2 in the opening game they more than redeemed themselves of a 7-1 win in the second bout with Shaw.

"Everything finally clicked into place for us in that second game against Shaw," explained Coach Bonn. "The girls batted and fielded well."

A game filled with errors cost the Monarchs to lose both games in a double header against Pembroke. "It was a disappointing loss after the win against Shaw," stated Coach Bonn, "But where the girls were clicking against Shaw, they made costly errors against the Indians of Pembroke."

Freshman second baseman Sally Steele odds one more run to the Monarchs winning score.

Dione Smith of Oxford performed consistently as a strong hitter for the Lady Monarchs.

Enthusiasm and energy were characteristic of the Lady Monarch Softball team.

In the Cotowbo Invitational Tournament the Monarch squad again fell to UNC-W, 8-2. In their second game the Lady Monarchs downed a tough Warren Wilson team 8-6 but lost to Guilford College 3-2.

In their next double-header against Pfeiffer the Monarch squad opened with a win but lost to the Falcons in the second game. A loss to UNC-Wilmington followed the Pfeiffer double-header.

In a double-header against the Comels of Campbell College the Lady Monarchs opened with a devastating 7-2 win but bowed to the Comels in a 9-1 defeat in the second game.

A series of double-header wins against St. Augustine and N.C. Wesleyan were broken only by the loss of the second game 5-1 in a double-header against East Carolina. In the previous game against East Carolina the Monarchs won 7-4.

The ladies ended their season by winning both games in a double-header against N.C. Central 12-7 and 5-4, respectively.

"We had a young team which consisted of nine freshmen," Bonn pointed out. "And until those girls had more playing experience on a college team, there were bound to be some rough edges."

Slow Start, Strong Finish For Monarchs

Inexperience Plagued Monarch Netters

When tennis season rolls around and one player returns from last year's squad with the remaining five having no collegiate experience, one is apt to start with the basics.

It's not as bad as it sounds, but that is just what Methodist College men's tennis coach Marion Sykes was forced to do.

Mark Halman, who played at the sixth position on last year's squad that tied for second in the Dixie Conference tournament last year, was the lone returning letterman on this year's squad which spouts three freshmen in the top six seeds.

"Other than Mark (Halman), this is the first year playing tennis on the college level for the members of the team," Sykes pointed out.

Freshman Jarmie Zarneiger and Roger Barefoot were seeded second and third respectively on the squad with Charles Speas holding down the fourth spot.

Junior Steve Strause played number five and Phil McAllister and Raymond Talar share duties at the sixth spot.

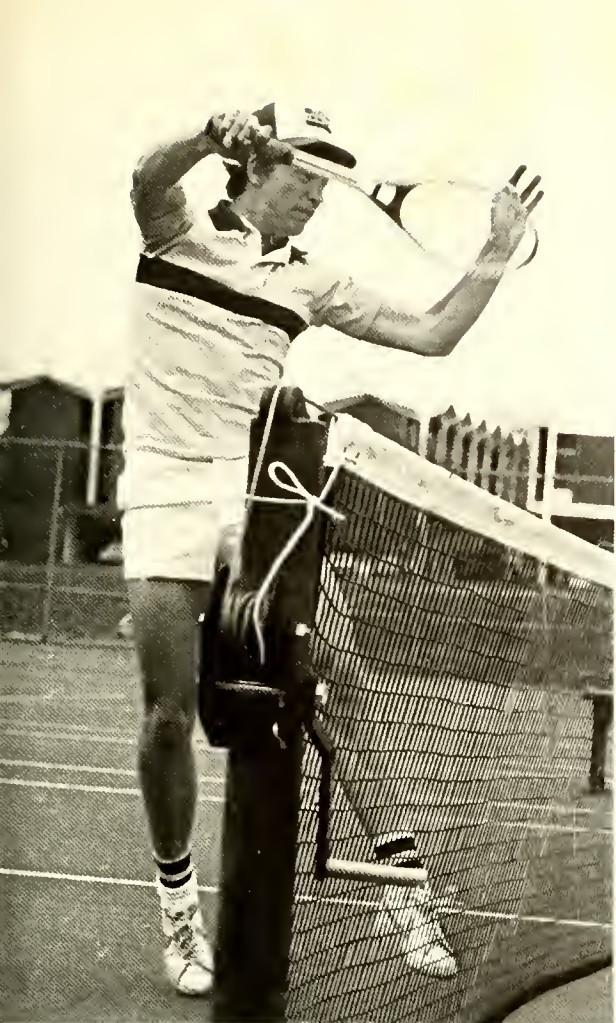

Coach Marion Sykes' men's squad remained winless for the 1979 season dropping five matches including three conference matches and one to powerful Francis Marion at Florence, S.C.

Francis Marion blanked Methodist College 9-0 and Averett College of Danville, Va. handed the Monarchs an 8-1 loss.

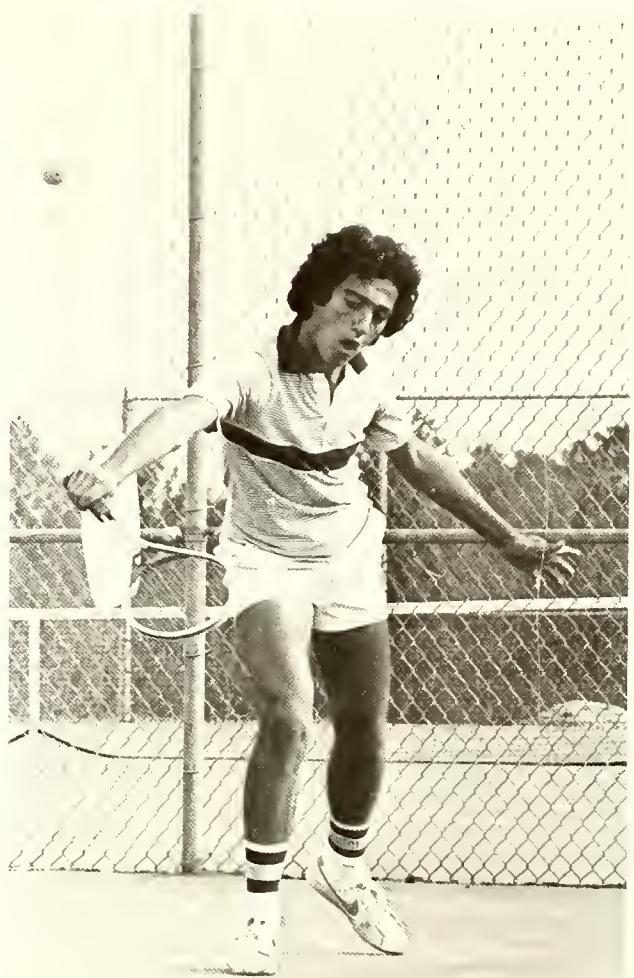

In addition to Averett, the Monarchs suffered Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference losses to Christopher Newport, 8-1, and Virginia Wesleyan, 7-2. St. Andrews blanked the Monarchs 9-0.

Towards the season's end a definite improvement in his team was noted by Coach Sykes. "The players became more consistent of their strokes. Progress was made not only in fundamentals, but also in our competitive attitude. Nervousness caused by lack of experience on the court was one of our main problems for it resulted in tightness on the court.

"We play the opponent to 30-30 or 40-40, but then lost the games."

Mark Holman exhibits aggressive net play in completing overhead smash.

One match often makes a difference in tennis and such is the case of the fall women's tennis team at Methodist College this year.

The Manarchs under first-year coach Rase Paul Blackwell were 5-6 in the fall season. But that record does not indicate what kind of season the Lady Manarchs had. With the exception of their 9-0 loss to an extremely tough St. Mary's squad all Manarch's losses were by 4-5 score while the Manarchs recorded 9-0 and 8-1 victories.

"Our main strength this fall season was doubles play," Coach Blackwell pointed out. "Doubles proved to be one of the strongest points during the spring season as Jeanne Edwards and Jenny Wright captured the North Carolina Doubles Championship. Both girls were evenly matched throughout both the fall and spring seasons, with constant playoffs to determine the #1 position."

It was a total lack of experience that led to the lady Manarchs' spring record of 1-6.

Liz Chiles and Cindy DiDalci, Coach Blackwell's five and six seeds, left the tennis courts for the softball field while the number 3 seed Kathy Keene did not return to Methodist second semester. This left the team with only Jeanne Edwards, Jenny Wright and Susan Walsh returning. It looked as if the season would have to be forfeited due to lack of players. However, Sera Schall, Astrid Hay and Jean Yaung, all freshmen filled in the vacant positions.

"Due to the amount of playing experience we had to start from the very basics," Coach Blackwell explained. "It was a season of total rebuilding."

The Lady Manarchs lost five straight matches instead blanking Greensboro College 9-0. The squad was defeated by NCAA Division I schools UNC-Wilmington 6-3 and Campbell College 8-1. The Manarchs lost to North Carolina-Greensboro 6-3 in between being shut out by powerful St. Mary's of Raleigh and Guilford College 9-0.

However, it was during the spring season that Jeanne Edwards and Jenny Wright won the State Doubles Tournament. The Manarch's third seeded doubles team of Jean Yaung and Sera Schalls won the consolation round in the tournament.

Tennis players for the Fall season at Methodist College were Cooch Blackwell, Cindi DiDalc, Kathy Keene, Suson Walsh; Row 2 Jeanne Edwards, Liz Chiles, Jenny Wright.

Spring Season participants in women's tennis were Coach Blackwell, Jenny Wright, Jeon Young; Row 2, Sera Schall, Astrid Hay, Suson Walsh.

Cypress Lakes is the home of the Manarch golf team; George Murphy, Van Fletcher and Rex Fletcher were the strength of the 1978-79 Manarch squad.

Monarch Golfers Defeat All Conference Contenders; Place Second In DIAC

Under the guidance of Coach Gene Clayton, the Monarch golf squad defeated all conference teams during regular season and finished second overall in the DIAC tournament held at Pinehurst. Freshman talent included Bill Potterson, George Murphy and Scott Moss. Murphy joined senior Von Fletcher as All-Conference players for the DIAC. The Monarchs play a fall and spring season.

Kyle Stephenson hurls shot put with olympic style.

Gregg Barnhill and Bobby Braaten place well in distance runs.

Monarch Track: Building Experience

To build a building one must first lay a foundation. Such was the case of the 1978-79 Monarch track team. "This was both a building and a learning experience for us as a team," discus-thrower Kyle Stephenson pointed out. "The school has a fund for track and rather than let it go to waste, the five of us thought we could promote the program in hopes of gaining more members next year."

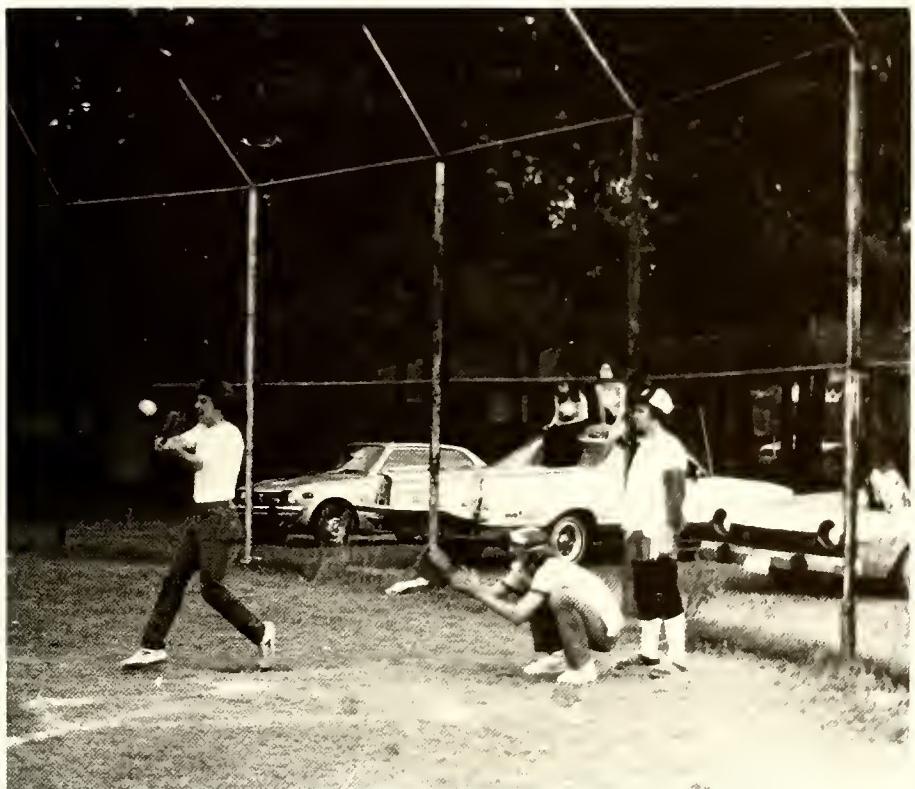

The Monarch squad was 0-7 for the season due to the fact that they did not have enough men to cover the initial events. However, with long distance runners Dusty Pappendick, Gregg Barnhill and Bobby Brooten, the squad usually managed to capture a second or third place in the mile and three-mile run.

Track members were Bobby Brooten, Kyle Stephenson, Gregg Barnhill, Dusty Pappendick and Cooch Joe Miller.

Intramurals: Everyone's A Champ

Koinonia Reflects True Intramural Spirit

No more signs warning teams that Tuesday is the last day for registration of team to participate in this and that sport. No more bugging student referees who never seem to make the right call at the right time.

The 1979 intramural season concluded a highly successful term under director Mosan Sykes when softball was completed and awards for the entire year were presented at a ceremony at the gymnasium April 30.

This year the intramural program consisted of six sports that kept students active from fall to spring time exams. The season began with flashlight which the Bulldogs won with an unblemished mark. ROTC's squad took the volleyball crown and Third Flair Cumberland took first place honors in the outdoor soccer program defeating Sanford Dame in the finals.

Third Flair Cumberland also captured the title in basketball while the Condys finished first in the indoor soccer league. The softball championship was capped by Third Cumberland.

This year's overall team champion was Kainania which placed a team in each of the six sports and finished with "approximately 345 points." ROTC finished second overall.

"I think Kainania played in the true spirit of what the intramural program should be," said Mosan Sykes, director. "They showed this through their participation; they did not forfeit a single game during the year and they enjoyed the competition."

Jerry Lewis was the individual who participated most in the intramural program.

JoAnne Jones Reigns Over Homecoming 1978

JoAnne Jones was sponsored by the Green and Gold Mosque-Keys and escorted by Jimmy Vestol.

JoAnne Jones of Ellerbe, N.C., was crowned Homecoming Queen during the halftime of the Monarchs soccer game on Saturday of Homecoming week.

"It's an honor to be voted in by your peers," commented the senior English major. JoAnne was crowned by the 1977 Queen, Mrs. Alice Pearce.

Members of the Homecoming court were Cindy Edwards of Elizabethtown, Lynn Granger of Fayetteville, Jewell Absher of Elizabethtown, and Jeonine Jenrette of Tabar City.

Ms. Jones, a Dingus Scholar, has achieved numerous academic honors while at Methodist.

Members of the 1978 Homecoming Court were Jewell Absher, Jeonine Jenrette, Cindy Edwards and Lynn Granger.

The Many Faces of Homecoming 1978

Homecoming — Something For Everyone

Homecoming 1978. There was something for everyone: Putt-Putt in the Union and picnics on the mall; soccer on the field and art on the sidewalk squares.

Highlights of the day were the soccer game with Baptist College of Charleston and the crowning of the new Homecoming queen, JoAnne Jones. Although the soccer team was not victorious, the lass did not dampen the bright spirits of the spectators for that evening a crowd gathered to dance their cares away at the annual Homecoming dance.

Karl-Michael Kroos was named Mr. Soccer in the contest by Kappa Delta sorority.

The Methodist College Chorus performed for the Homecoming crowd during the Saturday afternoon picnic on the mall.

Heads turn in every direction for the various activities of Homecoming 1978.

Campus Greeks cash in on the Toga craze at the Homecoming Disco on Thursday night.

The campus decorating committee was "charmin'" and made the trees look so "soft and pretty."

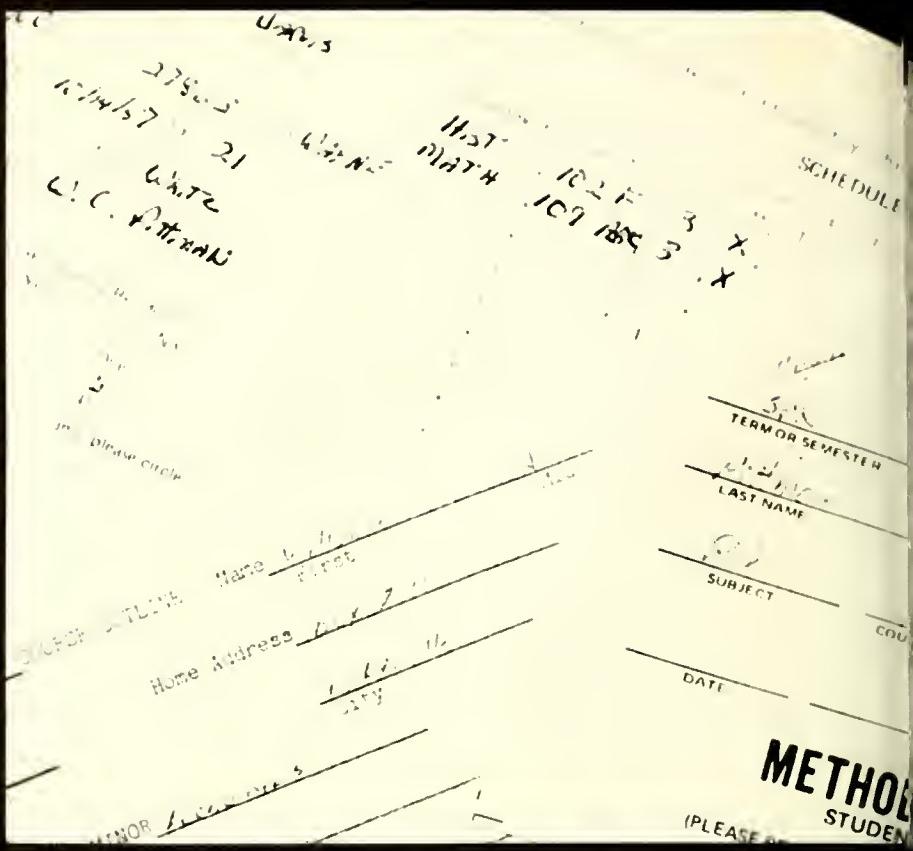

Lambda Chi Alpha brothers kidnapped a WFLB disc jockey and held him for ransom to be donated to the Falcon's Children's Home.

Larry Garrett intrigued audience with his hypnotism of Methodist College students.

Registration: It's More Hassle To Get Into Classes Than To Get Out

The process of registering for classes at Methodist College continues to improve with age, as different experiments with the layout of tables continues. Class cords and individual registration forms cut registration time to a minimum for spring registration. Students were able, if they had prepaid, to complete the registration process in less than one hour.

Transformation

BRYAN BEAL

Goblins and Ghosties and Things that go bump in the night — All these and more could be found on the Methodist campus on Halloween night, 1978. Students transformed into Dr. Jekyll and Dr. Moreau under the harvest moon of on October night; the Great Pumpkin emerged from the central mall; Aladdin burst forth from his lamp; and cowgirls and women of the evening also appeared at the annual costume dance sponsored by the Business and Economics Club of Methodist.

Under The Halloween Full Moon

Spring Festival

Spring Festival means people enjoying people. It is a week when spring fever is at its height. Classes were often "unofficially cancelled" to make room in one day for a trip to the lake and water balloon fights. Among the official activities were Mafia Day where the unfortunate victim was "hit" by a pie; two picnics; a bagpipe performance; the Miss Methodist pageant; and Deep South, the spring dance.

Spring Festival — A Balance Of Work and Relaxation

Although a large number of Methodist College students were at play during Spring Festival week, a certain group, gathered together under the title MC Student Union Board, was hard at work. Because of their efforts, no MC student could literally attend a circus, a night-club comedian act, a Southern ball and picnics. The Locomotian Circus performed during the festival, astounding students and staff alike with their expertise in gymnastics. The SUB was assisted in the scheduling of activities by Gorber Hall, which sponsored the all-male Ms. Monarch pageant, and by Pi Kappa Phi, which sponsored the Miss Methodist pageant.

Stella Matthews

Crowned Miss Methodist, 1979

Freshmon Stella Matthews walked away with the crown, the title and the trophy when she was selected Miss Methodist College during the annual pageant. The Fayetteville native charmed the judges with her interview and her definition of success. "I know my words will never start or stop a revolution," stated Ms. Matthews, "but they might stimulate a thought, and that to me is success." Matthews currently serves on the staff of Small Talk and Carillon and is active in the little sister group of Pi Kappa Phi. Pi Kaps named her Rose Queen for the fraternity for 1979 also.

Fine Arts

MC Theatre: A Touch of Broadway

The theatre enthusiast at Methodist College was definitely kept entertained by the MC productions this season. Brush Up Your Shakespeare, This Way to Heaven, Once in a Lifetime, and Ridiculous Young Ladies were all performed before the MC audiences during the 1978-79 year. Whether the atmosphere of O'Hanlon Amphitheatre or the formality of Reeves Auditorium or the intimacy of the Science Auditorium appeals to you, the high degree of professional was evident in all productions.

Catherine Errantan and Mary Kirby are cast as King Lear's daughters during Brush Up Your Shakespeare.

Excerpts from a number of Shakespeare's works were presented by this cast featuring also members of the Methodist faculty, not pictured.

Collegiate Theatre at Its Best

Dr. Jack Peyrouse, director of the theatre arts department at Methodist, finds both the interest and the talent on the liberal arts campus to stage five productions during the nine-month academic year. These productions range in concept from the one-woman show "Women in Crisis" to the full-scale cast of Koufmon and Hort's "Once in a Lifetime." A variety of staging techniques are employed from the student perspective.

MC Dinner Theatre — A Touch of Class After Class

Good food, good acting and a room full of good friends can't help but produce a smashing good time. Such was the case of the MC Dinner theatre. A spaghetti dinner along with two plays, Barefoot in the Park and Sherlock Holmes were the key ingredients that made the first MC Dinner Theatre a success.

Methodist College Chorus Are Ambassadors of Song

Under the direction of Alon Porter, the MC chorus not only performs before the MC students but conducts an annual tour. This year the tour took them to the Northeastern part of North Carolina and to the Outer Banks. The chorus is also active in keeping the Fayetteville community entertained as they perform for churches and various civic organizations.

Methodist College Chorus Officers are Butch Brown, president; Jon Strother, wardrobe; John Morris, vice-president; Cindi Borr, wardrobe; Tommy Hightower, treasurer; and Debbie Mullis, secretary.

The MC
Wind

The Stage
Band

The Methodist College wind ensemble and Stage Band provide an outlet for those MC students who have a talent for playing some form of musical instrument. Under the direction of Mr. Mike Ragers the Stage Band provided easy listening music for those attending the Homecoming picnic. Together with the Wind Ensemble, the Stage Band held a spring concert.

Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges And Universities

The 1978-79 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will carry the names of 19 students from Methodist College, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

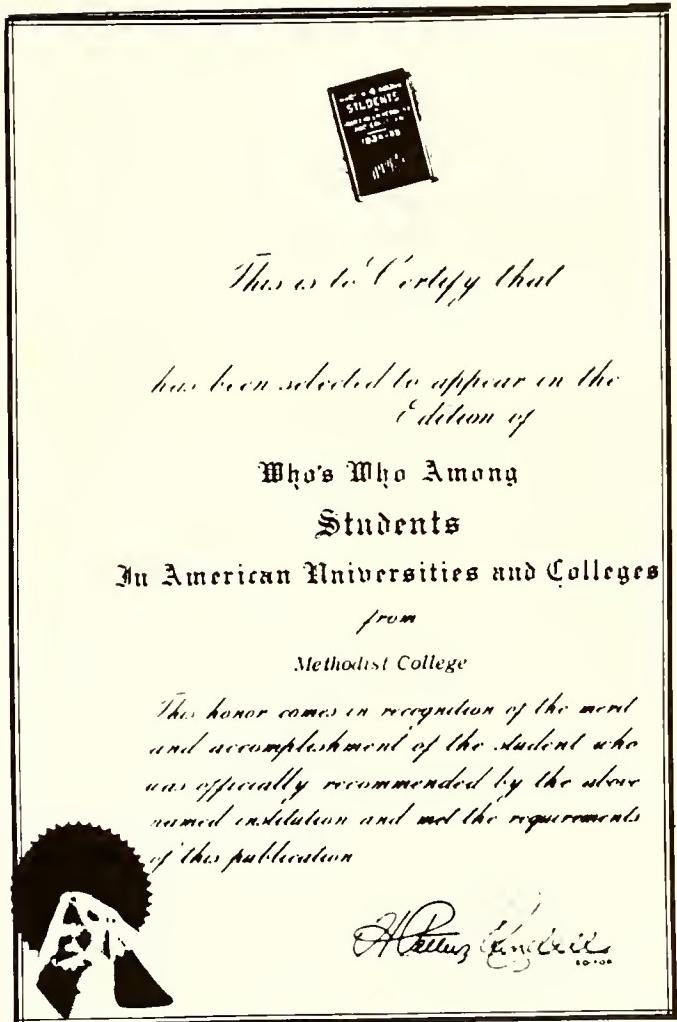

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students named this year from Methodist College are Belinda Chondler and Beverly Ann Dixon of Fayetteville, N.C., Cynthia Lou Edwards of Bladenboro, N.C., Ted Hough of Lumber Bridge, N.C., Gregory Allen Howard and Hollie Hutchison of Fayetteville, N.C., JoAnne Jones of Ellerbe, N.C., Jerry Deon Lewis of Morehead City, N.C., James Ralph McFoyden, Jr. of Ellerbe, N.C. and Mary C. Moloff of Fayetteville, N.C.

Also named were Ann Victoria Morrow of New York City, N.Y., Alice H. Pearce of Fayetteville, N.C., Teresa Ann Poole of Knightdale, N.C., Lester Sessions and James Albert Smith of Fayetteville, N.C., Jackie William Snopp of Baltimore, Md., Mary Lynn Sutton and Anne Fisk Wilce of Fayetteville, N.C., and Robert Thaniel Wilson Jr. of Goldsboro, N.C.

Dr. Samuel J. Womack: Commitment and Caring

Dr. Samuel J. Womack returned to the classroom in the Fall of 1979 after resigning his position of Academic Dean. He did so because he is first and foremost, an educator.

His love of the classroom had to take a secondary place to his commitment to Methodist College during the fourteen years he served as Academic Dean.

Dr. Womack joined the Methodist faculty when the college opened its doors in 1960 with an enrollment of 88 and a faculty of eight. He leaves his administrative past 20 years later having seen the enrollment increase to approximately 900 with a faculty of over 40.

Now he returns to the classroom. He has paid his dues. He has created a quality educational institution and now it is his turn to flourish in that academic setting.

With appreciation for a job well done and a wish for continued service in the teaching profession, the 1979 Carillon is dedicated to Dr. Samuel J. Womack.

Jim Bailey Receives Honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree

The Reverend James H. Bailey, minister of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church of Greenville, N.C., was presented on honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree from Methodist College during Commencement Exercises.

Citing "Outstanding service to his church, his community and his fellow man," Dr. Richard W. Pearce bestowed upon Mr. Bailey the distinction of being a man who "sought real solutions to real problems with commitment to the Christian ethic."

Bailey distinguished himself in Methodist circles with his efforts in the establishment of the Methodist Retirement Home in Lumberton and his service as a trustee of Methodist College. He is a former Staley Lecturer and district director of youth work. An evangelist for the International Ashram Movement, Bailey also served as a member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Postor's School at Duke University.

Secretary Hodgkins Speaks To Methodist Seniors

Sara W. Hodgkins, Secretary of Cultural Resources for the state of North Carolina, addressed the graduating seniors at Methodist College during the Sixteenth Annual Commencement Exercises.

Hodgkins, a native of Southern Pines, is one of two women serving on the cabinet of Governor Jim Hunt and is the first woman to deliver the Commencement address at Methodist. Ms. Hodgkins was introduced by her brother, R. Parker Wilson, of the Methodist College faculty.

"The responsibility of citizenship is to do what you can to better this society through excellence and accessibility," stated Ms. Hodgkins.

"Maintain the spirit that has brought you so far," she urged.

Methodist College bestowed honors on its academic dean and a member of the Board of Trustees during the graduation exercises. Dr. Samuel J. Womack, who has resigned from his position as academic dean at Methodist to return to the classroom as a professor of religion, received the prestigious Methodist College Medallion for "distinguished contribution to Methodist College for 19 years."

May Graduation Exercises Honor Over 80 Seniors

High prices, short supplies

News: 1978-79

Headlines saturate the public with words like OPEC, DC-10, Boat People, Inflation, Recessian, Even-Odd, Skylab, Oil Slicks, and People's Temple.

The USA crussed its fingers as Australia ducked its head hoping that Skylab would make good the statistics saying it would harm no-one. James Jones created horror instead of holidays with the November mass suicides in Guyana. Gasoline prices neared $1.00 per gallon as same states instituted even-odd rationing. DC-10's were grounded after a tragic crash killing over 250 people and health warnings were issued for bacon and cigarettes.

Jimmy Carter made attempts to increase his popularity as President while a "Draft Ted Kennedy" farce made plans for 1980. Governor Jerry Brown of California toured Africa with singer Linda Ronstadt — and the beat goes on.

Disco Fever hit big time this year flavoring everything from music to media. People listened to Danna Summers, Barry Manilow, the Bee Gees, and Blandie while watching Rocky II, Animal House, The Main Event, The Amityville Horror, Grease, Jaws II, and Rocky Horror Picture Show.

Dancing and roller-skating reached heights of popularity while some enterprising few combined both in Disco Rinks across the nation.

Jan Vaithe and Jane Fonda were top actors in a year that saw The Deer Hunters named best movie.

Scuples, Overload, The Far Pavilians, Chesapeake and Pulling Your Own Strings led the best seller lists along with popular how-to books and biographical sketches.

Television held its breath while Johnny Carson decided to stay on as host of the Tonight Show. Battlestar Galactica shared top billing with Mark and Mindy, Lau Grant, Saturday Night Live and Dallas.

And the beat goes on.

Sports: 1978-79

The Winners of 1978-79 were an elite group of intense competitors who rode the crest of victory for 365 days. Americans created more heroes than villains in sports: Terry Bradshaw, Donnie Allison, Pete Rose, Muhammad Ali, Froncie Lorue, Troy Austin, Bjorn Borg, Johnny Miller, Jock Nicklaus and Kyle Rote, Jr.

Everyone had a favorite team or competition narrowed — and some captured titles. The Pittsburgh Steelers in football, the New York Yankees in baseball, the Seattle Super Sonics in basketball and the New York Cosmos in soccer joined the winner's circle.

In collegiate sports, Alabama completed the football season ranked #1 while Michigan State copped the NCAA basketball title. The San Francisco Dons held the first-place NCAA soccer title while California State at Fullerton led the NCAA baseball teams.

Leisure time found Americans engaged in tennis, racquetball, golf, and outdoor sports, living up to the tradition that they play as hard as they work.

And the beat goes on.

The leader of the band of Steelers who defeated the Cowboys 35-31 in Super Bowl XIII was Terry Bradshaw, who strutted his stuff by throwing for four touchdowns

Fashions: 1978-79

The polished look was back in all fashions — from designer jeans cut narrow at the ankle to straight skirts slit high on the side. Suits and belted dress were highlighted with accessories like solid gold chains, wide leather belts, funky bar pins, and pearls.

Candies were all the rage in shoes with second choices going to topsiders and hand-tooled leather boots. Heels were high and thin; casual shoes were wedged and tied. The waist made a dramatic return with a closer fit obvious in all clothing. Glasses were large and geometric, often bearing the trademark of some designers like Diane Von Furstenburg and Oscar de la Renta.

Designer names were also big in perfumes with Holston being the cherished scent of '79. Charlie, Dior, Chanel's Cristalle, Cachet, and Jay shared top billing for women while British Sterling, Halston for men, Brut and English Leather continued high on the list for men.

Guys took part in the polished look with three-piece suits, button-down Oxford shirts, thin belts and Izod shirts. While hair got shorter, the tradition of Levis got stronger.

And the beat goes on.

Dionne Warwick thought
Red Cross was only about hurricanes.

A Public Service of This Newspaper
& The Advertising Council

"True, I always thought of Red Cross as a kind of rescue force in times of disaster and little more."

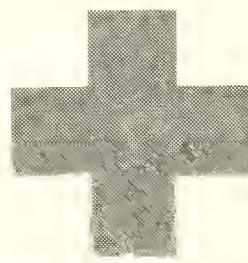

"Then I learned that in towns and cities across America, Red Cross gives the kind of help to individuals that you rarely hear about, because it doesn't make headlines in the newspaper."

"Red Cross, for instance, helps elderly people get to doctors' appointments... and even to the store. They help veterans get back on the track. They teach kids to swim... and how to save lives."

"I found out that if you added up all the different humanitarian jobs Red Cross does in different towns, the number comes to over 100!"

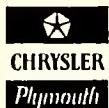

"That's why I'm helping to keep Red Cross ready. And why I hope you do, too."

Afterward

As a journalist, I am quite used to writing words that hopefully stimulate a thought or two before being tossed aside with the rest of the news. But this creating of words that will forever rest upon your book shelf is a new and frankly scary experience. Hopefully Carillon and the year 1978-79 speak for themselves. And what a year it was . . .

Nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, seventy-nine. A year made up of patchwork events. A dance here; a soccer game there — each piece woven together by the special people that make this campus a community.

We the Carillon staff have attempted to sew together each carefully-woven patch, one blanketful of memories. How could we have ever hoped to achieve this feat when patches were woven by people full of so many delicious contradictions? People who were capable of laughter that our photographers were able to capture. And people capable of tears that no one will ever see. Patches woven by athletes and actors in their finest moments. And patches left unfinished by those talented players who chose to walk rather than play.

How could we capture these different emotions and events and place them within 192 pages of the Carillon? We couldn't. We could only preserve fragments of the moments hoping that the ones we were able to capture would stimulate the remembrance of the moments we let slip by. Some slipped unintentionally because of faulty film or missing photographers. Others we let slip intentionally knowing that few people will ever see living color proof of skateboards and all-night parties in the dorms. And I certainly don't want to be held liable for 5 x 7 glossies of action down at the Sub-n-Mug or the dorms. But those times were special and though we cannot preserve them within the Carillon, they will forever be etched between the pages of our minds.

The year has passed — those 365 days of 1978-79 — but the growth remains. The journalist in me cannot help but notice and appreciate the value of the printed word, photographs recording any special occasion, but I am especially grateful for those years. Through the pages of the Carillon our growth process for that year is recorded. Through its copy and pictures we may visit the attics of our mind's full of forgotten memories lest we forget what we have seen . . . lest we betray what we have known.
